

BAL Poudre AT OLD WHITE

One of the Most Brilliant in History of the Old Resort.

MRS. PRYOR MOVING SPIRIT

A Brilliant Array of Matrons as Chapter-ones and Red Letter Day in the Season at the Green-brier White.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) GREENBRIER WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. VA., August 8.—The great event of this week was the bal poudre given by the ladies on Friday night, at which several hundred guests were present. The great secrecy and general air of mystery that has prevailed regarding the various committee meetings had raised expectations of something unusual in the preparations for this great and much talked of function, but the result justified these expectations, for the ball was generally conceded to be the handsomest given at the White for many years, and the old-time glory of the place was revived in earnest.

Mrs. Roger A. Pryor, the president of the Ball Association, was heartily congratulated on the result of her untiring efforts for the ball. Her tact and skillful handling of the various committees and graceful management of the success of the ball was in a great measure due, Mrs. John D. Potts was second only to Mrs. Pryor, and too much praise cannot be given to her for her indefatigable and able assistance, while Mrs. Potts was nominally only on the committee in charge of the badgers, having declined to act as chairman of the General Committee, and deserved the praise heard of her on all sides.

Mrs. Barton Grundy and Mrs. Preston Sands were in charge of the supper arrangements, and received from the guests the hearty co-operation which has gained for the management this season the warmest praises from every quarter. Mrs. George Goddard, of St. Louis, was the treasurer, the responsibility of which position she undertook at the earnest solicitation of her many friends. Besides these ladies, who were in active charge of affairs, the enthusiasm was shared by every one.

THE CHAPERONES. The chaperones were Mrs. Pryor and Mrs. Foster Thomas, of Louisville; Mrs. Rawlins Loundes and Mrs. John Chisholm, of Charleston, S. C.; Mrs. Preston Sands and Mrs. Browning, of Washington; Mrs. J. Y. L. Findley and Mrs. Henry A. Orrick, of Baltimore; Mrs. Phinley, of Augusta, Ga.; Mrs. Colahan, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Goddard and Mrs. Woodworth and Mrs. McGraw, of St. Louis; Mrs. Ann Week and Mrs. Birmingham, of New York; Mrs. Cotton, of Wilmington, N. C.; Mrs. George Couch, of Charleston, W. Va.; Mrs. John P. Richardson, of New Orleans; Mrs. Penn, of Danville, Va.; Mrs. R. S. Thomas, of Smithfield, Va.; Mrs. Pottet, of Louisville, and Mrs. Christian, of Richmond.

The committee on Arrangements, who entered the ball-room just after the chaperones, were Mrs. J. D. Potts, Mrs. Barton Grundy, Mrs. Moncure Perkins, Mrs. Walter Sifton Hutchins, Mrs. J. Allison Hodges, of Richmond; Mrs. A. B. Lambert, of St. Louis; Mrs. James D. Cowan, of Knoxville; Mrs. Louis Green, of Alexandria; Mrs. Thomas Fay, of Atlanta; Mrs. Berwick Lanier, of Baltimore; Mrs. Waterman, of Parkersburg, W. Va.; Mrs. J. R. Thomas, of Charleston, W. Va.; Mrs. Boswell, of Danville, Va.; Mrs. Davis, of Richmond.

After the opening march the Riley was danced by twenty-four ladies, of whom too much cannot be said in praise of their grace. After the Riley this dance was given until 11:30, when a short but brilliant cotillon was danced by Mr. Thomas Payne, of Atlanta.

of the wounding of Mrs. R. Carter Scott, wife of Judge Scott, of this city, last week. WARRENTON, VA., August 7.—Some days ago the family of Mrs. R. Carter Scott received a letter to the effect that while on a train near Clifton Forge a day or two prior to the date of the letter, an armed body stopped the train and demanded two negro prisoners on board. The entrance to the cars were immediately closed and the conductor ordered every one to crouch upon the floor. The mob fired all their ammunition through the windows. Mrs. Scott was struck over the eye by a spent bullet. A small bullet in the eyebrow was the only injury she sustained. Judge and Mrs. Scott were on their way to California.

MARRIED UNDER MANY DIFFICULTIES

Disinclined to Have Consummated Their Plans in Richmond. License Not Secured.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NASHVILLE, N. C., Aug. 8.—A marriage in this place this morning at Hotel Hilliard attracted considerable interest. It became whispered around the hotel that a crowd had gathered to witness the event. The contracting parties were Mr. Henry C. Bondurant, a representative of the Reynolds Tobacco Company, of Bristol, Tenn., and Miss Katie May Wertz, a very attractive young lady from Abingdon, Va.

The contracting parties were accompanied by Mr. E. C. Beville, of Rocky Mount, who is employed in the Atlantic Coast Line, and Mr. J. H. Benson, pastor of the Methodist church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a few guests of the hotel and the Graphic representative.

When asked why they had traveled such a distance to consummate their marriage and happiness, the groom stated that it was their intention to have been married in Richmond, where Miss Wertz was visiting friends and relatives, but being unable to secure license, they determined to carry out their intent, so they came on to this place by private conveyance, arriving here shortly after midnight.

On account of the lateness of the hour and the parties being strangers, Register of Deeds Whitaker would not grant the license until this morning, when it was secured and the ceremony performed as above stated. The happy couple seemed in the best of spirits and chatted merrily about their unexpected experience.

They left on the noon train for Rocky Mount, and from thence they will return to Richmond.

Miss Amy Conyers Tutwiler and her sister, Mrs. Ivanhoe Satter, returned yesterday from Virginia Beach, where they have spent the past few weeks very pleasantly.

EAST-END TOURNAMENT

Gun Club to Hold Shoot at Chimborazo Park.

MANY PRIZES OFFERED

Large Number of Professional Shooters to Be On Hand—Most Attractive Programme Has Been Arranged—Prizes.

The third annual shooting tournament of the East End Club will take place at Chimborazo Park next Saturday. Although the event last year was held on the 4th of July, when the heat was most overpowering, the entry for that date showed a most gratifying increase over the previous year, sixty-eight shooters faced the traps. It is confidently expected that the attendance this year will be the largest in the history of the club.

The programme for this year, which has just been issued, reflects great credit on its committee, especially as it is very attractive in the way of liberal merchandise prizes. Thirty-four dollars in currency is added to the various events.

The powder, shot and gun people of the country and Richmond business men and merchants have very materially aided in assuring the success of this tournament.

This will certainly be a typical meet of sportsman, men who shoot merely for recreation, men who shoot to become proficient in the art of a field shot, and men who shoot as a profession, and the latter are perhaps the best salaried traveling men of the day. The latter are classed as experts, and such well known shots as E. H. Storr and Neaf Apper, of the Peters Cartridge Co.; H. K. Elliston, of the Winchester Repeating Arms Company, who holds the "best iron trophy" as the champion winner of shot of the world; Colonel Anthony, J. E. Avery, C. Van Inwegen, and A. C. Barrell, of the Union Metallic Cartridge Company; L. D. Thomas and T. Baskerville, of Ladlin and Rand Powder Company; William Baskerville, of the Austin Cartridge Company; H. P. Collins, of Dupont Powder Company, and Karl Von Longorke, of E. C. and Schultze Powder Company, are booked by their respective firms to be present.

Never in the history of trap-shooting in Richmond have so many professionals been assigned to attend a one day tournament.

AUTUMN EXHIBITION IS AGAIN DISCUSSED

(Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch. Copyright, 1903.)

PARIS, Aug. 8.—A number of painters in Paris have again raised the question of having an Autumn Salon for the exhibition of paintings. Last year the question had already been discussed and a committee was chosen to procure the ways and means. The city of Paris has promised to allow them the use of the Petit Palais for next November if a sufficient number of artists can be brought together to give the show value.

It is not likely that the project will succeed for some years yet. The present double Spring exhibit, lasting two months and in which two formidable rival societies comprise the best artists in France to the number of more than two thousand, is enough to satisfy the artistic cravings of most Parisians. Even these exhibits are no longer so popular as they were some years ago.

This year the Government could buy very few paintings owing to want of cash. The receipts of the two societies were far below the normal sum, and it is not likely that any great artistic enthusiasm could be excited among the inhabitants in November. M. Albert Bismarck, president of the new association in formation, does not entertain any great hopes himself.
